"Sow me and watch me grow"

Mezcal MareARTE's new way of presenting itself with its Clients and Friends as a company that cares for Nature.

Mezcal MareARTE, is a Socially Responsible company.

Not only do we plant 10 agaves for each one we use in our production processes, but we go further.

We are aware that the environment and nature are issues that we all have to take care of, we have decided to start a new way of involving all our clients; That is why, as of November 2021, we begin a new way of presenting our mezcal.

We include in each of our bottles a couple of Espadin Agave seeds, so that people at home can plant them and have their own Agave. Take care of it, watch it grow over time. This new way of raising social awareness is not simply a campaign for a specific time, it is and will be our way of cooperating and helping Mother Nature who gives us so much.

We will continue to plant 10 agaves for each one that we use in our production processes, but now, our clients can do the same and have an agave in their own home and / or garden.

We invite you to be a participant in our culture of Social Responsibility and to sow at home the agave seeds that you will already find in all our bottles.

Do not miss the opportunity to help the environment in a simple and fun way.

Caring for and protecting the environment is Everyone's Responsibility.
